

ONE CENT—LAST EDITION—ONE CENT

ALL TODAY'S NEWS IN A NUTSHELL
EASY TO READ ON CAR GOING HOME

THE DAY BOOK

An Adless Newspaper, Daily Except Sunday

VOY. 5, NO. 83 Chicago, Wednesday, January 5, 1916

398

NOW WILL THE BOSSES LET UP ON THEIR FENDER FIGHT?

Chicago Would Not Be Sorrowing Over the Death of Catherine Goggin if Marshall Field Truck Had a Fender, Says Margaret Haley—Blame Leads to Loop Bosses.

If the Marshall Field & Co. auto truck which crushed the life from the body of Miss Catherine Goggin last night had been equipped with a fender, as the law provides, she would more than likely be alive today.

That was the cry of Margaret Haley over the body of her old friend and fellow officer of the Chicago Teachers' Federation last night. It was her answer to State street's bitter fight on auto truck fenders.

The little woman, one of the few who dares to lift her voice against big business, hurled the blame on Marshall Field & Co., on the other State street department stores and